European Cultural Centre

Founded in 2002, the European Cultural Centre (ECC) is a place for reflection, research and creation, for interdisciplinary encounters, as well as for resources and experimentation. The ECC, with its base in Venice, Italy, provides the conditions to invite artistic and creative practices, a process of learning and experiencing from all fields: visual art, dance, performance, theatre, music, literature, architecture, and more. It is a place for investigating the most vital contemporary issues in order to design a shared future. Being a place in perpetual motion, besides exhibiting finalised projects, the ECC will go further and will present projects that strongly interact between the various creative practices, the city, participants and visitors from all over the world.
