

About us

ASEF culture360 (culture360.asef.org) is a portal managed by the Asia-Europe Foundation (ASEF) since 2005.

ASEF culture360 is designed to stimulate cultural engagement and enhance mutual understanding between Asia and Europe by providing relevant information through weekly updates on news, events, opportunities and resources. It also features a magazine with in-depth articles, interviews and profiles, and social media tools to enable online networking between individuals, as well as organisations across the ASEM region. Since 2011, culture360.asef.org also hosts the website of the Asia-Europe Museum Network (ASEMUS).

Goals

- To inform cultural practitioners, artists, policy makers, and governments about arts and culture in and between Asia and Europe
- To create networking opportunities for cultural professionals who are looking to share ideas
- To facilitate cultural reflection as well as stimulate cultural dialogue and cooperation within the ASEM region

History & Achievements

ASEF culture360 was initiated in 2005 by the Culture Ministers of the Asia-Europe Meeting (ASEM), following several meetings of cultural policy makers and cultural practitioners who identified a need to facilitate information flow and cultural cooperation amongst member countries. Launched in 2008, it has been recurrently acknowledged by ASEM Culture Ministers as “a concrete deliverable of the ASEM process ... to facilitate the visibility of cultural activities of member countries.” In 2010, the portal was identified as an existing tool for the exchange of information on diversity of cultural expressions by UNESCO, the UN’s lead agency for culture, in “Collecting Information, Data, Best Practices: Existing Mechanisms and Tools”. In 2014, the European Union specifically highlighted ASEF culture360 as an “excellent model of information exchange for Asia-Europe cultural co-operation” in its Report on Preparatory Action on the Role of Culture in EU External Relations and as a model worthy of emulation for Europe’s relations with other regions.
