17th International Children's Film Festival India – The Golden Elephant

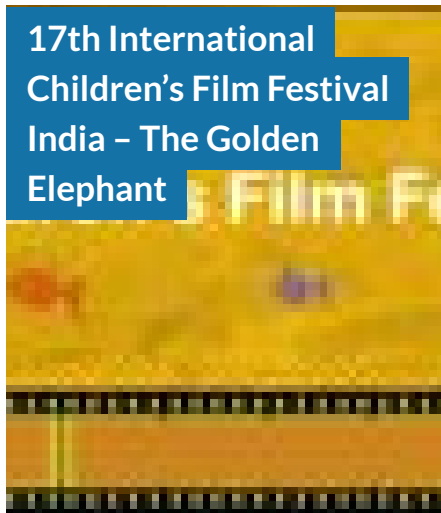

International Children's Film Festival India: The Golden Elephant is a biennial festival that strives to bring the most imaginative and delightful international & national children's cinema to young audiences in India. The festival presents features, shorts, live action and animation films over seven days of festive celebrations attended by more than one hundred thousand children and hundreds of film professionals and eminent guests from around the world. ICFFI is organized by Children's Film Society India (CFSI) – a Government of India organization committed to nurturing a dynamic children's film culture in the country. Since its inception in 1955, CFSI has been producing, exhibiting and distributing exclusive, entertaining and enriching content for children. With an enviable catalogue of around 250 films in 15 different languages, CFSI remains the prime producer of children's cinema in South Asia.
