DIGITAL
ART & CULTURE
FESTIVAL 2011

The DA+C

Festival is a contemporary festival aiming at positioning Penang as the Creative Digital Hub of South-East Asia. Using George Town's World Heritage Site environment, the event blends cultural traditions with the latest communication technologies. This approach also seeks to bridge the gap between young and old generations, and thus build stronger communities. This year's edition includes a large number of interventions such as interactive installations, audiovisual mapping, talks, and workshops in which creatives from local areas and beyond will gather. The events will take place at Suffolk House, an Anglo-Indian Georgian House that took seven years to restore and received a distinction from the UNESCO Asia-Pacific Awards for Culture Heritage Preservation in 2008. The festival is co-organized by Badan Warisan Malaysia (Heritage of Malaysia Trust) and re-cap.org a design collective that promotes cultural heritage and social responsibility. It is scheduled within the framework of the George Town Festival 2011, a month-long celebration of George Town's inscription on the UNESCO World Heritage List.
