for Malta-based artists

ARC Research and Consultancy and Arts Council Malta are issuing a fund targeting emerging Maltese and Malta-based artists and creative professionals in the intersectoral field of Culture, Health and Care.

The CultureAndHealth platform fund for the Maltese islands is part of a four-year international initiative aimed at supporting emerging European artists working at the intersection of Culture, Health, Care, and the Social Sectors.

The scheme, is divided into two strands.

Strand 1– International learning mobility

This strand supports the engagement in international shadowing/mentoring opportunities to support development and exchange of knowledge for emerging artists in this area. It will enable individuals to express their interest in, and receive support for international learning mobility, within the Creative Europe countries with an established entity or individual(s) specialising in Culture and Health practices, projects and programmes.

The maximum eligible amount per project is 3,000 EUR.

Strand 2 – Project Implementation

This strand supports projects, led by emerging artists in this field, promoting the improvement of the quality of life and cultural access in healthcare or social care settings. This strand will support projects and/or programmes which bring together professionals and organisations across the arts, health and social sectors that aim at supporting creative projects designed to deliver health and well-being benefits.

The maximum eligible amount per project is 9,000 EUR.
