European CrAft programme for climate-neutral cities call

Call for CrAft Cities

Deadline: 9 September

CrAft Creating Actionable
Futures

CrAft (Creating Actionable Futures) is calling for proposals from cities that want to test and share models of transformation, receive implementation support and become role models for cities across Europe.

The CrAft platform will help cities to make their climate-neutral transformations beautiful, inclusive and sustainable. Running until 2025, CrAft supports the implementation of the Cities Mission, the NetZeroCities Mission Platform and the New European Bauhaus (NEB).

The CrAft city cohort (of 70 cities) will include a geographically balanced mixture of cities. CrAft particularly encourages small and medium-sized cities to apply.

Who is it for?

- EU Mission Cities
- EU Mission Applicant Cities
- Other European and global cities of interest, NEB Lighthouse projects

What support is provided?

Selected CrAft Cities will receive support to develop and test local collaborative governance models to support transition to climate neutrality:

- Learn from other CrAft Cities
- Balance stakeholder interests, priorities & competencies in a Climate City Contract
- Make the climate neutrality process more inclusive, empowering and accessible to all
- Use art, culture and the creative sectors as catalysts in the transition
- Participate in a next-generation think/do tank with students and youth communities
- Participate in a storytelling campaign on actionable climate-neutral futures
- Shape policy briefs to inform and advise national and European policy makers
- Showcase projects in CrAft events, storytelling and publications
- Receive first access to the CrAft Impact Model and Guidance Package

The first event for the CrAft Cities will be held in early November, in Prague.

NEMO publishes 7 tips for museums to advocate for their sustainable transition mental policies that are directly inclusive of the arts and culture. NEMO offers these suggestions to assist museums in their sustainable transition while connecting to policy.

Research how to contact policymakers in your area, particularly cultural policy, urban development and sustainability. Meet with national representatives, and any other actor or funder in your area.

Environment

Use huge amounts of energy, they may have wonderful practices, and might be able to help.

Get inspired by initiatives and best practice from the benchmarking process with examples and guidance shared.

Collaborate with other museums, cultural organisations and institutions who are interested in the sustainable transition and climate.
