curatorial training open call

The École du Magasin is a curatorial training program, one of the activities of the art center the MAGASIN in Grenoble, France. Established in 1987, The École was set up to provide a professional (institutional) environment for a rigorous combination of research and practice.

Call for application - Session 23 (2013-2014)

Application must be sent no later than 30 April 2013

The pdf information brochure in English & French can be downloaded here

There is a two stage application process, involving an interview for shortlisted candidates in Grenoble. For the selected candidates, the training course is free but they must pay their own living expenses, and travel. Six curators were selected for the last session, and engage on a collective curatorial project as part of the training programme.

See the website for application form.

The Generation online directory gives an overview on former participants' professional trajectory. The information (texts, photos, links) is conceived by each individual who is responsible for the content and the update.
