France | International Festival Photoreporter | open call

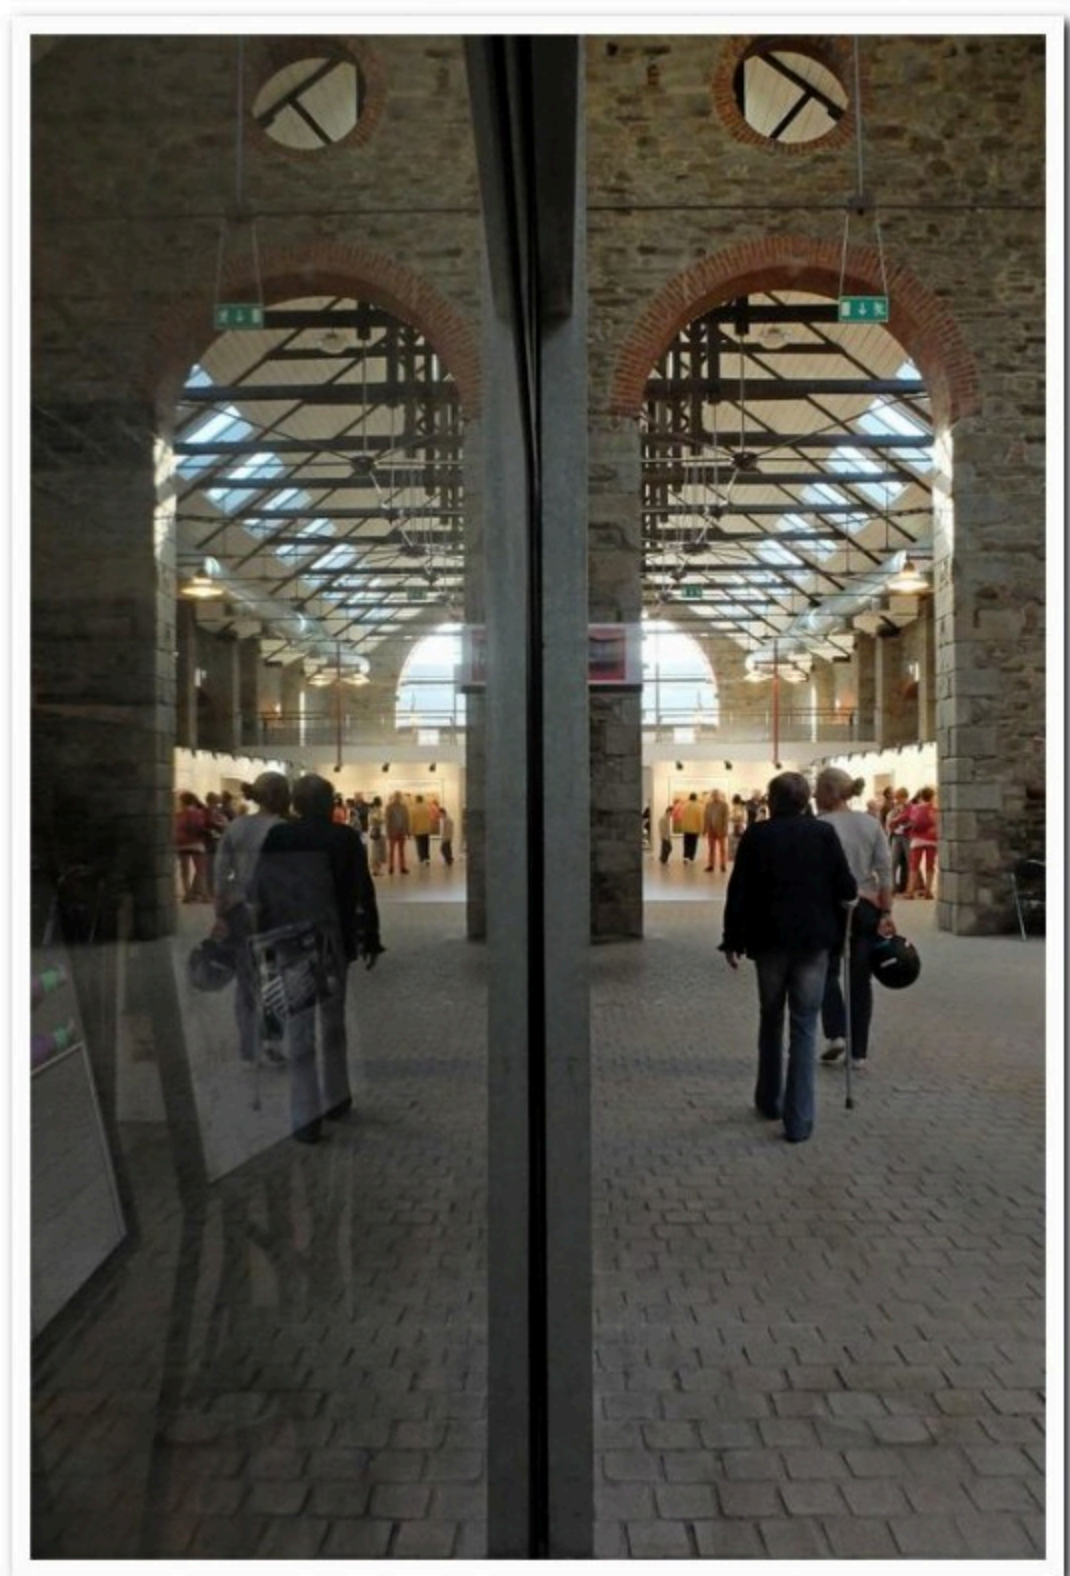

The 4th edition of the International Festival

Photoreporter in the Baie of Saint Briec (Brittany, France) launches its call for applications. The festival continues its desire to help produce photo documentaries that show our world in its diversity - applicants are free to choose their theme.

The artistic director of the coming edition of the Photoreporter festival in the Baie of Saint Briec is Marc Prüst, photography consultant and specialist in photographic storytelling.

The winning photographers will receive a grant that corresponds to their proposed budgets, between the amounts of 5,000 and 10,000 euros. The budgets should be detailed per post including the fees for the photographer.

The festival will produce and finance the prints for the exhibitions. Once selected, the photographers will have until mid July to create their reportage so that their projects can be exhibited during the festival in October to the beginning of November 2015.

The production and realization of these photographic projects is the result of a mobilization of private enterprises who have created together a collective fund (a so-called Fond de Dotation) to support Photoreporter in Baie of Saint Brieuc.

25th of February at midnight (CET) : deadline for submitting proposals
