Balmoral | residency call

Künstlerhaus Schloss Balmoral in Bad Ems, Germany offers residency scholarships for visual artists of any age or nationality. Residencies are for three or six months, in all visual arts disciplines, including architectural ceramics.

Aims and objectives

Artists' residence Künstlerhaus Schloss Balmoral in Bad Ems, Foundation for Culture of Rhineland-

Palatinate, which was founded in 1995, is a place of reflection, artistic production, discussion and meeting. It supports visual artists from the disciplines of painting, sculpture, installation, drawing, graphic arts, design, photography, video as well as from new media and landscape art from all over the world by awarding artists-in-residence scholarships.

The Künstlerhaus is publicly presented through lectures, concerts and exhibitions. Works by the scholarship holders are regularly shown in a relaxed atmosphere. The Künstlerhaus perceives itself as an intersection between the different kinds of art media and theoretical reflection but also as an intermediary between current and former scholarship holders. Balmoral intends to build a bridge between the artists' present and their future.

An exceptional offer for visual artists in Balmoral is offered by developed Baukeramik Ebinger (architectural ceramics), which produced tiles for the internationally known artist Hundertwasser. This company has opened its workshop for the Balmoral scholarship holders thus giving them the possibility to experimentalise with the material of ceramic. Prior knowledge is not mandatory. The artists will be supervised by the company's staff. More information www.baukeramik-ebinger.de
