Southeast Asian Film Financing (SAFF) Project Market is a new addition to ScreenSingapore 2015, taking place 2-4 December 2015. Call for film projects with SE Asian professional/creative/content element.

A call for submissions is now open for in-development fiction and non-fiction feature film projects from aspiring and experienced filmmakers to be a part of the first Southeast Asia co-production project market. The SAFF Project Market facilitates meetings and interactions between the filmmakers and potential collaborators, investors and distributors who can help bring the film projects to fruition.

Submit your projects now to stand a chance to be selected as one of the Top 10 projects. The finalists will then get the chance to be present at the Project Market to meet potential co-producers, financiers, sales agents, commissioners and programmers.
