Archa Theatre

Archa Theatre is a centre for contemporary stage art, without regard to barriers of genre. It acts as a production house, where contemporary art is created and presented.

Archa does not have a stable ensemble or its own performances are created as projects. Archa is a place for international confrontation of stage art. The theatre presents its own performances not only in the spaces of the theatre, but also elsewhere, for example in public spaces. Archa places equal emphasis on the theatrical and social functions of the theatre and creates projects both independently and in collaboration with like-minded organisations in Czech Republic and abroad.
