Danish Cultural Center is Denmark's official platform for the exchange of culture and art in China. Their field of work aims at bringing culture and human values at the heart of creativity, learning, and innovation with an approach funded on encounter and respect.

Priority is put on topics, which promote Denmark as an innovative and cutting edge nation. Typical themes include the physical and social aspects of urban transformation, design as a daily commodity, revitalisation of the cultural heritage whether tangible or intangible, sustainable development, and issues of public health.

Key words for these activities are exchange, dialogue, and mutual inspiration, which can lead to long lasting connections and encourage networks. For this reason, they seek to carry out the projects and events in close collaboration with Chinese partners.
