faberllull

Faberllull is a network of residences of arts, sciences and humanities located in the cites of Olot (Catalonia) and La Massana (Andorra) managed by the Institut Ramon Llull in collaboration with Olot's town council and the Government of Andorra.

It is a place for professionals from the Arts, Sciences or Humanities fields (writers, translators, artists of diverse disciplines, scholars and scientists and so on) come to work on their personal projects for a time.

Faberllull offers:

- Thematic residences programmed throughout year, in which professionals from the Arts, Sciences or Humanities fields can come to work and share experiences with other residents for a few days.
- Individual residencies that all professionals from the Arts, Sciences or Humanities fields can apply for coming to work on their professional projects for a few days.

Faberllull is a service institution. Serving local and foreign residents, institutions, associations and organisations with which it is related and, of course, to the citizens of Catalonia and Andorra. Their residences are a generator of activities: meetings, seminars, conferences, workshops and various activities.
