Global Production Alert is an online information resource on COVID-19-related restrictions in cities, states and countries around the world. It has been created for film professionals by the Association of Film Commissioners International (AFCI).

The regularly updated resource provides information on COVID-19-related restrictions in cities, states and countries around the world, as they apply to film makers, enabling international film shoots and planning to proceed as smoothly as possible.

The resource covers the world, with individual country sections and contacts by continental regions.
