The International Academy Of Film And Television (IAFT)

Founded in April 2004, the International Academy of Film and Television is Hollywood in Asia. Located on the island of Mactan in Cebu, Philippines, this seaside campus offers the latest resources in film production technology, including a sound stage, a shooting stage and state-of-the-art post production facilities.

The school has a specialized curriculum that combines theory with practical application under the mentorship of leading industry professionals. In addition to its finely tuned programs in filmmaking (Certificate Program and Diploma Program), and the Performing Arts, IAFT also conducts various Short-Term Workshops on topics that range from animation, editing and acting.

Through its parent company, Bigfoot Entertainment, the IAFT presents selected students with unique internship opportunities to apply their newly-acquired skills to actual feature film and television productions, cultivating the highest creative standards in the next generation of filmmakers.
