Over the past 125 years, the Queensland College of Art has brought together some of the finest practitioners and academics in visual art and design and produced thousands of professional artists, designers, photographers and filmmakers who have helped shape art and design culture in Queensland, Australia and internationally.

Many of their programmes have an industry focus, and have been developed with the assistance of professional art and design bodies. They have a strong commitment to community partnerships and internationalisation. Students work with community organisations, business and government on a variety of projects throughout their programmes. The business community supports students through scholarships, travel prizes and exhibitions.
