Res Artis: Worldwide Network of Arts Residencies was established in 1993 as a network of arts residency operators from around the globe.

As the leading organisation for global arts residencies, Res Artis advocates for the sustainability and growth of the field by providing professional development opportunities and tools for its member organisations through physical meetings and virtual platforms.

Based in Melbourne, Australia, the Res Artis network comprises over 500 vetted members from around the world. Res Artis aims to support and bridge residencies, promote the significance of residencies, and provide recommendations towards cultural mobility research and policy.
