SAE Bangkok was established in 2002 as the first school in Thailand to offer creative media technology training. SAE was set up under an exclusive franchise agreement with Mahajak Development Co. Ltd. who is the largest distributor of professional audio & visual equipment in South-East Asia. SAE Thailand is located centrally in the Sukhumvit area of Bangkok inside the Mahajak building, which houses many of Mahajak's subsidiary companies and branches. Currently SAE Bangkok houses 3 audio recording studios, 2 disc-jockey studios, a film studio, 2 computer labs (mac & pc), plus a number of classrooms and individual workstations.
