ART & GALLERY GUIDE

www.sagg.info

Spearheaded by former gallery owner Rene Daniels in 2004, the Singapore Art Gallery Guide (SAGG) was the first guide to the art and cultural institutions of Singapore, and to this day the free pocket-sized publication remains the most well read and comprehensive.

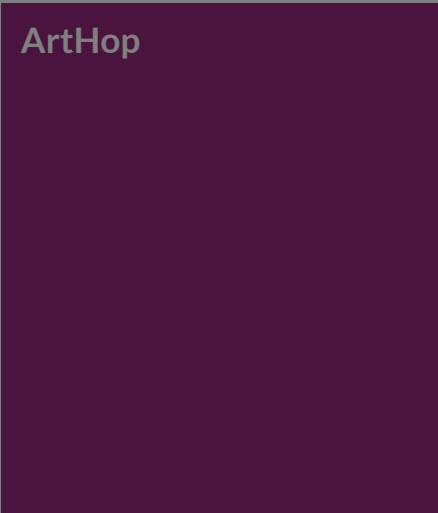

A key focus of SAGG is its dedication to featuring both popular and established art institutions and events, as well as Singapore's independent subculture and smaller little-known venues. With listings, editorials, and regular columns, SAGG aims to be a comprehensive and practical tool helping readers make their way around the art scene in Singapore.

SAGG enjoys a readership of fine art collectors, influential art critics, governmental and private sponsors of the arts, as well as local and international visitors seeking guidance on how to enrich their cultural experience of the city. The SAGG website offers an unparalleled up-to-date overview of the local art scene by listing an average of 100 art exhibitions and events per day on its practical calendar, which allows readers to see all events at a glance by clicking on a specific day.
